

School of Health Related
Professions

Are you an RD/RDN interested in advancing your career and obtaining an advanced degree?

The Master of Science in Clinical Nutrition (MSCN) program at Rutgers School of Health Related Professions is an advanced practice degree in Clinical Nutrition designed for the Registered Dietitian Nutritionist (RDN). It is a web based, 31 credit degree program that focuses on advanced clinical knowledge, practice and research needed for innovative and inter-professional practice and leadership in the dynamic health care environment.

Graduates of the MSCN have many career options and opportunities. They are prepared to assume leadership roles and receive recognition for their excellence in clinical practice and leadership. Alumni have obtained positions in: clinical management, academia, industry, and specialty practice.

Based on the results of our 2014 alumni survey:

- 58% of MSCN alumni respondents were involved in research
- 39% of MSCN alumni respondents presented posters at professional conferences
- 37% of MSCN alumni respondents have published a manuscript in a peer-reviewed journal or newsletter, authored a book, book chapter or other professional publication

The link for the application can be accessed at:

http://shrp.rutgers.edu/prospective\_students/admissions/online\_app

The requirements for admission and graduation can be viewed at:

<http://shrp.rutgers.edu/dept/nutr/programs/adminGradreqr.html>

If you are interested in taking a course as a non-matriculated student during the next semester visit:

http://shrp.rutgers.edu/prospective\_students/admissions/admissions9\_non\_matric.html

Please visit our website for more information and to review our FAQs at:

http://shrp.rutgers.edu/dept/nutr/programs/m\_clinutr.html

If you have any further specific questions, please feel free to email the MSCN program Director, Dr. Rena Zelig at zeligre@shrp.rutgers.edu

If this program sounds right for you – don't wait!
The deadline for applications for Fall 2016 is April 1st, 2016!